"ARMY COLONEL" KNOWN HERE

PASADENA, Calif.—An inquest verdict yesterday failed to lighten mystery surrounding the death of Mrs. Elizabeth H. Chaney, 35, of Portland, Ore. A coroner's jury found she died of a cerebral hemorrhage, but did not go into the question of whether death was accidental. She was found unconscious Saturday in the lobby of fashionable Hotel Huntington, and died later that day in hospital.

Ogden Baker Richardson, 35, who says he is a former Canadian Army colonel, was called to the stand, but on the advice of counsel, refused to testify. He is being held for investigation in connection with the case, and for check on his immigration status.

Richardson was a visitor in Kelowna this summer, and was widely entertained by residents of this community. It was recalled by several people today that he talked a great deal about his "army career," and is alleged to have stated he was a German prisoner of war. On another occasion, it was recalled Richardson said he saw active service in the Far East, and that while on a recent visit to Eastern Canada, landed an aircraft after the pilot took sick. Many local residents were not impressed by his stories.

FREIGHT RATE INCREASE

MONTREAL—Canadian Railways announced today they have applied to board transport commissioners for general advance of 30 per cent in freight rates. Application was made by the Railway Association of Canada for its twenty-three members. Application has been made to the Prices Board for concurrence in increases if approved by the commissioners. The increase is asked for all freight except those for coal and coke, where it is suggested an increase be given of 20 cents per ton in rates to and including $1 per ton; 30 cents per ton in rates from $1.01 to and including $1.50 per ton; and 40 cents a ton over $1.50 per ton. Rates affected by the proposed increase would include those on freight from and to United States-Canadian border points on import and export traffic through Canadian ports moving at rates not related to rates in effect from and to United States ports.

APPLE PURCHASE

WASHINGTON—Britain is offering to purchase apples from eastern United States to supplement imports from Canada and elsewhere, the British information service announced today.

RUSSIA VOTED DOWN

PARIS—The Peace Conference finished its work on Italian draft treaty early Thursday after finally approving the hotly disputed French compromise proposals for government of free territory of Trieste. Decision on Trieste came after series of ballots in which Russia and Soviet states were voted down six times in their last attempt to have the conference approve their ideas for territory at head of Adriatic. Foreign Secretary Bevin said the Russian proposal sought "to restrict the use of the Danube exclusively to countries along its banks, and is not only a retrograde step, but a deliberate discriminatory action against their Allies."

URGE GOVERNMENT TO TAKE ACTION

OTTAWA—Canadian Legion today asked the government to use its emergency powers to provide immediate temporary housing and warned delay might result in servicemen taking the law into their own hands. The Legion's views were submitted to Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction.

$100,000 FIRE

CHARLOTTETOWN—Fire early today destroyed buildings causing damage estimated around a hundred thousand dollars. Originating in a foundry, the flames raced through other buildings in the Stewart's wharf area.

SPECTACULAR DISPLAY

Canada and most parts of the United States were treated to a spectacular display of shooting stars last night as meteors shed by the Comet Giacobini-Zinner burned across the sky in what some scientists said was the most brilliant exhibition seen in North America this century. Scientists used radar and reported they "saw" the display of meteors beyond fog and clouds.

WARNS OF DANGER

WINNIPEG—Canada runs a greater risk than most nations in becoming involved in any international struggle, Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, former High Commissioner to Australia, told a Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention today. "We are as much interested as any nation on the face of the earth that international policies shall be adopted and pursued which will eliminate the threat of war."

NEW BRITISH BASE?

LONDON—War Office spokesmen have declined to comment on reports that British Ministry Mission in East Africa examining a suitable area as a British base and headquarters for the Middle East. It was indicated, however, that Kenya Colony has already been decided on as a base area.

OPEN TO CRITICISM

WINNIPEG—Failure of the Dominion and Provincial governments to reach a financial agreement would leave Canada open to "ideological aggression directed against our economic and political system by Socialist and totalitarian groups," Premier Stuart Garson, of Manitoba, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce last night. He said the gravest threat to the Canadian system was its tax structure, and the rejection of Dominion proposals simply meant the provinces are in an unsatisfactory position as in the past.

PULP MILL EXPANSION

VICTORIA—Inquiries to the provincial government regarding timber resources led reliable quarters to forecast that a chain of pulp mills will spread over the province, involving many millions of dollars, and one source said there is a good chance three new pulp mills would be established within the next two years. He said sufficient pulp wood is now available for two mills in the Prince George area, another at Quesnel, one on the British Coast of Vancouver Island, and another at Skeena. Sources termed Port Edwards, near Prince Rupert, as an ideal site for a large pulp mill undertaking.

REINFORCE GUARDS

ROME—Strong reinforcements of steel-helmeted Italian troops and police, alert to prevent a repetition of yesterday's bloody rioting, guarded all approaches to the palace today as the Italian Cabinet met in an attempt to end the threatening labor crisis. Two were killed and 141 injured in yesterday's riots.

Civic Official Defends Methods Employed To Catch Stray Animals

Acting-Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games Investigates Several Complaints from Residents

Methods employed by the local poundkeeper over the way dogs are caught were defended by Acting-Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games following an investigation of several complaints from local residents.

At the Council meeting on Monday night, Mr. Hughes-Games thought that a lot of the complaints were unwarranted, and that W. Blackwood, local poundkeeper, has assured him that no "illegal methods" were used. He cited as one instance when Mr. Blackwood had two dogs on a leash prior to taking them to the pound. On this occasion the dogs were not on a leash, but he denied the other stray animals were encouraged to follow the dogs he had on a leash.

"The S.P.C.A. has no complaint and respects Mr. Blackwood's methods," Acting-Mayor Hughes-Games declared, adding that the number of stray animals in the vicinity of the local schools are bothering students.

At the suggestion of Mr. Blackwood that no dogs be allowed in the Park, except on a leash, Alderman Sam Miller declared that a ruling to this effect is in force now, and that the long dogs for signs will shortly be posted in the Park. In making his monthly report, Mr. Blackwood said that 19 dogs had been redeemed during the month of September; six dogs destroyed; two horses redeemed; two cows redeemed, and four dogs sold.

FIRST PLANE TO LAND

The new civil airfield is now an established fact. The above picture shows the first aircraft to land on the field which was brought in by D. W. Smith, of the B.C. Interior Aviation. Mr. Smith landed his aircraft last Friday, and despite the fact the field has not been rolled out, he experienced little trouble. A few ditches have already been filled in and bulldozers will be working again tomorrow to smooth out the rough spots. The field will be rolled out this fall, and plans call for re-seeding the airstrip next spring.

Aviation enthusiasts have already taken advantage of the flying lessons offered Tuesdays and Sundays, a former R.C.A.F. air-gunner, with 1100 hours to his credit, being one of many who have enrolled for instruction. Last Sunday two airplanes operated all day but were unable to accommodate all the people who wanted to go up.

Cardinals Tie World Series Hitting Record In 12-3 Win

Fans in St. Louis were assured of another chance to see a World Series game this year as the Cardinals pounded out a savage 12-3 victory against the Boston Red Sox at Boston today, to tie up the series at two-all.

Several records were tied by both sides in the highest outburst in the series. Redbirds equalled the all-time high for the number of hits in a single game that was set at 20 by New York Giants in the series against the Yankees in 1921. Enos (Country) Slaughter, main slugging star for the Cards today, punched out a homer, a double, and two singles to tie the record for most hits by a player in one game. Four Wally Moses, Sox right fielder, dished out four singles. Another record was equalled when Joe Cronin threw in six pitchers in the Cardinals' lineup. The Cards tied the record for most hits by a team in a game when they scored three on Slaughter's home run, a double by Kuroski, a single by Walker, and an error. Going on from there, they shelled Tex Hughson from the mound in the third, and before the damage could be repaired, had made another trio, all charged to Hughson.

George Munger went the whole way for the Birds, upsetting the dopsters who thought he would be washed out early in the game. Eddie Dyer, single-happy crew, got the Cards' lead in the fourth. Munger all the help he needed to score one of the finest wins of his war-interrupted career.

Fifth game goes on at Boston as the Sox, who had lost the first and Howie Pollet, as the likely choices of the rival coaches of Beantown and St. Louis, respectively. Sixth and seventh (if necessary) will be played in St. Louis, first one starting on Sunday.

New Records
It was during the last inning that existing records started to quaver. Slaughter, first up, got his fourth hit of the day, singling into the outfield. Two more base hits and an error brought in another run before Mace Brown was taken out and Mike Ryba put in. Marion doubled in two runs and scored later on Ryba's error, fielding Schoendienst's ground ball.

Then Moore tied the World Series record by getting the Cards' 20th hit. Ryba was yanked after he walked. Musio, the third man up, singled to the bases. Dreiswirth forced Slaughter—this was his second time in the inning—to pop out.

In the bottom half of the ninth, it settled for a chicken.

The spectacular show was caused by the earth passing within 131,000 miles of the orbit of the comet Giacobini. The earth in 1933 was within 500,000 miles of the orbit and at that time as many as 350 meteors per minute were counted. Now the earth is only a quarter of that distance from the orbit.

The full moon, of course, provided a background for the meteors, as its brightness made only the large meteors visible. Had there been clear skies and no moon, the display would have been even more spectacular.

If conditions are favorable, there should be a repetition of the display tonight, Thursday.

Turkey Shortage

Size Of Turkeys Presents Major Problem As Housewives Find Ovens Are Too Small

By "THE BEAVER"

Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen had better start figuring now how they can knock down the partitions of their oven if they want their turkey cooked to a luscious brown. And Father had better be ready to tackle a miniature ostrich when it comes time to carve the traditional Thanksgiving dinner, for if the size of turkeys being delivered to the local market is any criterion, many of the birds are so large they will be unable to fit into the average oven. But judging from the rush during the past few days, there will be few if any turkeys left by Saturday, and many will probably have to settle for a chicken.

Reason for the shortage, according to the market experts, is due to the fact prairie farmers are holding back their turkeys until Christmas. The birds are being held in large numbers, and are being shipped to the market in small lots. The result is that the only turkeys that are appearing in Kelowna butchers shops are local. "In fact, there is a shortage of turkeys in the entire province, and coastal cities are expected to be hit the hardest."

A check with local meat markets showed that the 12-pounder—the average size bird for the average-size family—has disappeared from the counters, and the only turkeys left range from 18 to 30 pounds. One local shop received about 30 birds, weighing around 12 to 14 pounds, but these were snapped up about a week ago. Proprietors of other stores told the same story, and they all agree that come this Saturday, few birds will be available.

But whether it is a turkey, an overgrown chicken, or a choice cut of beef that will adorn the dinner table, Canadians are prepared to celebrate their second peace-time Thanksgiving Day in the traditional manner, and the long holiday week-end will call for many reunions around the festive dinner table.

Residents of the Okanagan are fortunate in more ways than one, for practically the entire bill-of-fare will have been locally raised. There is an abundance of pumpkins, sweet potatoes, and fresh vegetables on the market, and the eating household has probably got enough lard or shortening cached away to make the ever-popular pumpkin pie. And there is also a fine selection of nuts in local stores that will brighten up the sideboard along with crimson-colored Okanagan-grown apples. A shipment of cranberries, conspicuously absent during the past few months, arrived in the city this week, and if the "boarders" do not get their first, there should be enough to go around.

But a bare spots on the pantry shelf and the ever-present ration book in the housewife's purse are eloquent reminders that while Canada's granary is full, her resources and those of other nations of the New World are strained by the needs of less fortunate peoples abroad.

Canadians may well be thankful that they will not lack food in the coming winter and that they are in a position to make a substantial contribution to areas in many parts of the world which are perilously close to the starvation level. With British crops hard-hit by disastrous late summer rains and many lands badly disorganized by the effects of war, the list of countries in need of outside aid reads almost like a roll-call of Europe and Asia.

Special Services
For this reason, as the Dominion prepares to celebrate its second peace-time Thanksgiving Day, the religious touch will not be forgotten. Special services are planned in local churches, and prayers of thankfulness will be given for a bountiful harvest.

NO ADDITIONAL PAPER STATES RETAIL HEAD

Plight of Merchants Through-out Province "Desperate"

There is no immediate hope for improvement in the present paper shortage situation, George R. Matthews, secretary of B.C. section of the Retail Merchants' Association told organization members at a special meeting at the Women's Institute Hall, last night.

He found the plight of merchants throughout the province "desperate." Some measure of consideration is being given to meat dealers by Ottawa, but that is all, he advised. "As soon as the public realizes how bad it is, they will co-operate," he said.

Mr. Matthews dealt at some length on steps taken by the Association, provincially and nationally, to protect the interests of the retailers at large. One bit of provincial legislation which was due, he believed, for attack by interests opposed to it, dealt with consumer credit.

Paid $45 for $15 Ring
The act, as it now stands, will go into effect when Wartime Prices and Trade Board controls are lifted, he said. "Every article sold will have cash price, not credit price, marked on it, amount of interest and carrying charges," the secretary said.

This legislation will prohibit purchases on easy terms over a long period of time, he declared. He cited an example of pre-war practice where $45 was paid over three years for a ring that sold for $15.

Proposed provincial legislation to prohibit farmers who do not go into business from obtaining retail licenses was being pressed by the association, he said. Same closing hours for stores at the outskirts of cities as those within city limits was also being taken up at Victoria, he advised.

Retailers were admonished not to revert to pre-war "dog eat dog" attitude of many owners. They were urged to co-operate. Turn to Page 7, Story 2

First frost of the season Wednesday night, virtually killed all garden produce. The mercury dropped to 27 degrees, according to the local meteorological bureau.

Plans For Expanding C.N.R. Facilities Here "On Paper" Railway Executives Declare

OUTSTANDING MUSIC STARS COMING HERE

Membership Campaign for Concert Series Opens—Don Cossacks Here October 21

Four outstanding attractions of the Hillier "Greater Artists Series" will come to Kelowna during the fall and winter months. It was announced this week as the Kelowna Rotary Club set in motion a membership campaign which will entitle local music lovers to attend the four events.

The one week's membership campaign, opened in the city today, Thursday, and subscribers are advised to get their tickets within the next seven days as no single tickets will be sold for an individual concert. All concerts will be held in the Kelowna Scout Hall, the first of which will take place on October 21, when the original Don Cossack Chorus will reappear after a successful performance here last October.

Outstanding on the series is Mona Paulue, lovely young mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Co. This petite, vivacious brunette brings to the concert and opera stage one of the loveliest and most perfectly cast voices to be heard in recent years.

Another distinguished event will be the concert of Robert Kitchin, renowned Russian violinist who recently came to this continent, appearing in London, Paris, Rome, Amsterdam, The Hague, Berlin, Madrid, Barcelona and other cities. Europe in recitals and as soloist under the most distinguished conductors, Kitchin has been proclaimed "The Russian Paganini." It is said he holds his finger in the divine secret of charming an audience.

Opening event on the series is the ever-popular original Don Cossack Chorus, with Serge Jaroff, conducting, who will appear in Kelowna Monday, October 21. Following their triumphant concert here last year, which opened the door to the expanded season this year, the Cossacks have enjoyed great success all across the United States. Under their dynamic conductor, the Russian giants will present an all new program.

Fourth attraction is the Fisk Jubilee Singers, famed exponents of the Negro spiritual. They sing the delightfully entertaining program of spirituals, slave songs, plantation shouts, etc. Heard weekly for many seasons over the N.B.C. network, they have made recordings for the B.E.C. and have appeared as soloists with many symphony orchestras including the great orchestras of Boston, Chicago and Los Angeles.

Membership campaign headquarters have been set up at Lipsett Motors and subscribers are now being recorded at that address. Membership is open to anyone. Further details may be obtained from the advertisement appearing on page 6 of this week's Courier.

GYRO PRESIDENT WELL-KNOWN

Gregory T. Yorke, well-known in the Okanagan Valley, and now a resident of Vancouver, was chosen international president of the Gyro Club at the annual convention held in Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. Yorke is past-president of the Vancouver Gyro Club and former governor of District No. 4. He was born in Victoria in 1896 and came to Vancouver shortly after the First World War, in which he served in the Canadian Field Artillery.

CONGRATULATE COURIER

The Kelowna Board of Trade on Tuesday afternoon passed a resolution congratulating The Kelowna Courier on its move to twice-weekly publication. The resolution stated that the Board considered the move an advantageous one for the community and expressed the hope that it would be successful.

CIVIC EMPLOYEE RETIRES

H. A. Andison, an employee of the city for the past 12 years, has retired due to ill health. City Council was informed last Monday night. In view of his faithful service, Aldermen decided to make his resignation effective December 31, 1946.

No Paper Monday

There will be no Courier issued on Monday, next, Thanksgiving Day. It is regretted that our publication must be eliminated next week on account of the holiday, but with a holiday coming on Monday it is almost impossible to get out a paper over the week-end. Holidays upset the city's normal routine and dry up news sources, while merchants have difficulty in preparing their advertising copy.

After consideration of the Monday holiday problem, it has been decided to adopt the definite policy of no publication on Mondays which are holidays. This will be effective until further notice. The only other such day before the end of the year will be November 11th, Remembrance Day.

The attention of subscribers, advertisers, correspondents and newsboys is drawn to this statement.

Fully Realize Kelowna Growing Community, Western Vice-President Tells Civic Officials—C.N.R. Definitely Not Interested in Building Hotel or Going Into Summer Resort Business—No Indication Given as to Future Expansion Plans—Hope to Give Better Railway Service Here

Railway Heads Tour City

PLANS for expanding C.N.R. facilities in the Orchard City are "on paper," and while no indication was given as to what type of expansion would be forthcoming, the Orchard City is recognized as the growing centre of the Okanagan Valley, and nothing is being overlooked that will lead to greater and better development of this area. This was indicated last Tuesday by a group of Canadian National Railway executives who visited Kelowna and conferred with members of the local Board of Trade and prominent civic officials.

One thing is definite, however. The railway company is not interested in the hotel business, nor is it interested in developing a tourist resort comparable with other mountain playgrounds. It was the first time in many years that a group of high railway officials had visited Kelowna, and there is no doubt they obtained a perfect insight of conditions in this rapidly-growing community. Whatever the purpose of the trip, they at least seemed satisfied they had obtained the necessary information. It was indicated—just indicated, mind you—they will now return to Eastern Canada and complete any plans that are now in the "paper stage."

It is known, however, that the icing of refrigerator cars is currently a problem and that there is some possibility of the railway taking steps to correct the situation. Additional freight shed accommodation is also another local problem.

Very important is the assurance that the railway is already planning the revamping of its holdings in the industrial area of the city. It is hoped that this will solve many local problems and will make possible a better truckage service for the area and lend encouragement for future industrial development. The distinguished party was headed by N. B. Walton, C.E., executive vice-president, C.N.R., Montreal, and included W. R. Devenish, vice-president, western region, Winnipeg; and four directors, R. B. Brennan, St. John; J. A. Northey, Toronto; B. L. Daly, Montreal, and E. J. Young, Dunsmuir, Sask. W. T. Moodie, general superintendent, Vancouver, and Jack Thomson, C.N.R. publicity representative, Winnipeg, accompanied the party.

The conference with Board of Trade members and civic officials was held at the Willow Inn, at which time various things were discussed that would lead to the betterment of railway service to Kelowna.

It is difficult, at the best of times, to "pump" information from railway executives insofar as future plans are concerned. They have to use a certain amount of strategy, otherwise they would not be holding their present high executive position today. Naturally civic-minded citizens were anxious to know about any future plans the railway had in mind for developing the city, and they took the opportunity of bombarding the railway officers with questions.

Growing Community
Mr. Devenish probably summed the whole thing up when he remarked, "We are definitely positive that your apple crop may be a record, and in years to come will be exceeded. Our thoughts are based on that."

Is A Ditch Part Of A Water System

The Minister of Municipal Affairs has brought up a technicality over the city selling the water rights at the civic airfield to a Vancouver syndicate. Council was informed on Monday night.

"It's a question whether the act reads 'water,' or 'water rights,' Alderman Jack Horn retorted, adding the matter has been turned over to the city solicitor.

"We can hardly sell dirt ditches. It's like selling a post hole," he declared.

Teachers From All Valley Points Meet For 25th Annual Convention; Educational Head Opens Meeting

SCORES of teachers from all parts of the Central Okanagan are in the Orchard City attending the 25th annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association which officially opened Wednesday night at the local High School, when Dr. M. A. Cameron, head of the Department of Education, University of B.C., addressed a public meeting. Today delegates are busy discussing the various problems pertaining to their profession and the party will officially close with a banquet and dance tomorrow night.

"Parents must endeavor to strike a middle course between strict repression on one hand and indulgence on the other."

"We live the way we do because of the way people have lived before us, and our children's lives will take their pattern from us. Our chief duty is to bring up good children by means of three agencies—the home, church and school," he declared.

"Parents must endeavor to strike a middle course between strict repression on one hand and indulgence on the other."

"We don't want young Canadians exposed to the 'over-sentimentality,' he continued. Dr. Cameron felt that if children are surrounded with affection and laughter, half the problems are solved. A little child is neither a villain or a darling. It has definite rights. It has a right to a rich cultural environment—that is, his parents should do their best to give him all they can of good literature, good music and good art," he said.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1946

Thanksgiving---1946

A far from flattering likeness has emerged from the recent spate of articles and letters to editors purporting to explain Canadians to themselves, analyze the national character, delve into the influences which have made the people of this country what they are.

These outpourings typify the Canadian as a chronic worrier. Secretly, they say, he's proud of his native land; publicly, he'd like to see it returned to the Indians. He's immature in that he's quick to criticize other lands and peoples; indignant if, in return, foreigners venture mildly to criticize those features of Canadian life which differ from their own.

The Canadian, writers of these analytical articles continue, lives in the fairest land on earth—but he doesn't know it. He's fearful, tortured with doubts; he deprecates the achievements of his fellow citizens, yet shakes his head sorrowfully over those expatriates—and they are numerous—who have attained eminence in the United States and elsewhere.

No doubt the mood of introspection induced by such writings is salutary—in moderation. But we cannot think of a season more appropriate than Thanksgiving in which to evaluate the factors on the assets side of the national ledger.

True, Canada is plagued with housing and material shortages. Industrial discord has been widespread; amity as between province and province, the provinces and the Dominion is, to say the least, not all it might be.

Leave to the poets the description of the autumnal glories of this Dominion—the tang of burning leaves, the tapestry of color with which nature dapples the landscape at the fall of the year—but let us remember that to hundreds of thousands of people merely to live in and enjoy the bounty of this land is a privilege almost too good to be true.

Think, for instance, of the little Scottish war bride, en route to Kelowna from her native Aberdeen, who shyly confided to fellow passengers on a westbound train that every time she had a meal in the diner—a boring rite to others—she felt guilty because of the wartime hardships her family had undergone.

Let's be humbly thankful we live in this favored, untouched country—and properly proud of it.

Name New Ferry

A new ferry is now abuilding and soon will operate in conjunction with M.S. Pendozi to provide a much better service on this important connecting link of the Okanagan's main highway.

The ferry is being built and the Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided that it should find a name for the new craft. Certainly, the new ferry should have a name and will doubtless have one all in good time, but in the meantime the search for a name is going on merrily by the Jaycees.

Unfortunately the majority of the suggestions already made have a bit of the spirit of levity about them, or of bitterness. Such names as "Holdup II" and "Bottleneck" have been suggested.

In the days back in 1938 and 1939 when the ferry situation here was absolutely intolerable, the Courier conducted a contest to name the then hopelessly inadequate and nameless craft struggling to handle the translake traffic. The name selected was "M.S. Holdup" and the name stuck until the poor ship was finally taken to the boneyard at Okanagan Landing. That name was an appropriate one and it served its purpose.

However, conditions are different today. True, there were traffic holdups this season, but the new ferry, it is hoped, will remedy that. No one would have thought of giving a disparaging name to the new ferry of which we were all so proud back in 1939. It was something to glory in, to "point to with pride"; not something of which to make fun.

And so with the ship now a-building. It is expected that it will immeasurably improve the service and that it will help solve so many of the difficulties which now hamper north and south movement. It, then, should not be laughed at; it should be greeted with huzzas and hosannas; it should be given a proud name, suitable for its mission.

The name, we feel, should be one that reflects the background of the district, the spirit of the Okanagan. A name with the tang of strangeness, a touch of music. A name—as does "Pendozi"—to excite the interest, pique the curiosity, prompts the question. It might well be that such a name might have to be of Indian derivation. If so, so much to the good.

But, whatever the name, it is to be hoped that those who choose it—the Department of Public Works—do not select some common, every-day, humdrum Anglo-Saxon designation of no appeal and without glamor. A little imagination surely can be exerted. It would be a little too much to have as a sister-ship of the "Pendozi" a vessel christened "Jones" or "Brown" or "Smith."

The shirt shortage is to get worse, the Wartime Price Board says. But how can supplies be worse than nothing at all?

Cows in Ontario are reported to have become tipsy from eating apples. Were they celebrating the increase in milk prices?

Kelowna In Bygone Days

Forty Years Ago

Thursday, September 20, 1906

"During the month of August the Farmers' Exchange made shipments of fruit amounting in value to $4,504.45, besides large shipments of vegetables."

"We understand that City Constable W. Brent has tendered his resignation to the Board of Police Commissioners, to take effect on October 2nd. There has been friction between Mr. Brent and the City Council for some time as to the nature of his duties, culminating in his resignation."

"The Hospital Ball on Sept. 12th was a great success, the attendance numbering about 170 and the net receipts amounting to $74.50. Dancing was kept up until 3.30 a.m., and substantial refreshments were served by the ladies' committee. Music was provided in their usual good style by the Kelowna Quadrille Band."

"The sports committee of the Agricultural and Trades Association having offered prizes for a clay pigeon competition, the event came off on Thursday morning. J. Bowles took first place and a gold medal with 21 out of a possible 25; Chas. Harvey second with 16, and H. S. Rose and H. C. Stillingfleet tied for third place with 15 each."

A report of the annual Fall Fair occupies much of the space in this issue. The quantity of fruit exhibits was small but the quality was very good. Onions and potatoes were outstanding in the vegetable department, fancy work was up to the standard of former years, and there was an attractive display of flowers and house plants. The Thursday races proved a great success, the events being closely contested, the weather ideal and the track in fine condition from rain which fell during a few preceding days. Aggregate attendance at the race track and the exhibition hall was about eight hundred. The finances of the show, which were kept entirely apart from the racing, were expected to show a small deficit, which would be more than offset by the government grant."

Thirty Years Ago

"Col. Sgt. J. Finch, of the 102nd Regiment, Rangers, Kelowna, has been appointed to the instructional staff of the School of Infantry at Esquimalt."

"Many people will be surprised to learn of the departure of the Rev. D. Lister to Vernon on enlistment as a private in the Army Medical Corps. Pte. Lister has felt the patriotic call of the Empire and has temporarily thrown down his work here to serve humanity in another way by helping the wounded and sick in the great life and death struggle in Europe. He left on Tuesday's boat for Vernon. His departure, while in many ways deeply regretted by the community, calls forth the warmest admiration and respect."

"The death is chronicled of J. L. Doyle, who passed away on Friday morning, Sept. 15th, as the result of a heart attack, believed to have been brought on through excitement over the provincial general election, held the previous day. Mr. Doyle, who was aged seventy-three, was a native of Hamilton, Ont., had resided in Kelowna for twelve years, and was the city's first assessor."

Final count of the results for the Okanagan riding in the provincial general election, held on Sept. 14th, gave Mayor J. W. Jones, Conservative, 652 votes as against 549 for L. V. Rogers, Liberal, a Conservative majority of 103. Polling in the city of Kelowna resulted as follows: Jones, 221; Rogers, 195. The vote on prohibition of liquor traffic gave a majority of 303 for the proposed measure, which was supported by both candidates, the figures being 723 in favor and 420 against. Women's suffrage carried by a considerably larger margin, the count in this instance being 330 in favor and 305 against. East Kelowna, Woods Lake and Ellison all recorded majorities against prohibition. In Kelowna the voting on the plebiscites went as follows: for prohibition, 233; against, 161; for women's suffrage, 274; against, 125.

"Two C.P.R. and three C.N.R. freight trains now leave Kelowna daily."

"An American boy was ordered to be deported by Stipendiary Magistrate Wednesday last. He had managed during his stay here to steal a horse, saddle and several blankets, also a number of other articles, including tools belonging to the owners of the Kelowna-Wood Lake ferry. While riding south on the horse he had stolen he was arrested and brought back here by Provincial Police at Penticton."

"Six country youths who had been making a business of stealing water melons and cantaloupes came before the Stipendiary Magistrate this week and received a severe warning. Their method of operation was to ride to where the fruit was to be obtained and, on arrival there, two would hold the horses while the other four filled sacks with melons. Thus they were able to steal quite a considerable quantity."

The Rt. Hon. and Rt. Rev. Dr. A. F. Winnipeg-Ingman, Bishop of London, paid a visit to Kelowna on Friday, Sept. 17th. He delivered an eloquent address at a crowded service in St. Michael and All Angels in the afternoon, with the Bishop of Kootenay, Archdeacon Greene, Rev. C. E. Davis, Rev. H. C. Gibson and Rev. H. C. Thomas assisting as officiating clergy. At the conclusion of the service, Bishop Ingman planted an Oriental spruce at the south-east corner of the church in commemoration of his visit. He left later in the afternoon for Penticton.

The weather was most unkind to the Fall Fair, held on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 22nd and 23rd. Heavy rain fell on Tuesday, rendering the track in bad condition for the holding of sports, but it was not the state of the ground so much as a piercing cold wind from the north which made things so unpleasant that the sports program arranged for Wednesday afternoon had to be cancelled, with serious effects on the gate receipts. The Fair itself made a creditable display, the stock entries being larger and better than in an average year, while in some of the divisions the exhibits were of exceptional excellence and the collection of produce in the main building fully demonstrated the agricultural and horticultural resources of the district.

"(Omitted in error last week.) To date some 250 cars of McIntosh apples have rolled to the domestic market from the Okanagan Valley, and at least 50 cars for export, according to the latest check-up. Latest figures compiled by the B.C. Tree Fruit Board show that 127,874 boxes were shipped on Monday evening and Tuesday morning from the Valley for domestic trade. Another 20,797 boxes were destined for export. These figures represent approximately 204 cars domestic and 28 export, and since they were tabulated at least another 60 cars have left the Valley."

"Latest estimate of the B.C. Tree Fruit Board places the Okanagan apple crop for 1936 at 4,139,289 boxes, including both hauled and undamaged fruit. Of this total, 320,350 boxes are said to be hauled. These figures do not include Wealthy, Dutchess or cooker apples."

"A gutted building, warped and twisted machinery and split cans are all that remain today of the plant of the Rowell Canning Co., which was swept just after midnight last night by the most spectacular blaze seen in years in Kelowna. The loss is estimated at approximately $125,000. The fire is believed to have started today in the boiler room from an unascertained cause, and it spread with lightning rapidity. The Fire Brigade battled the outbreak for five hours before the last ember was extinguished."

Eight five-man teams and four individual marksmen took part in the annual competition for the Gilbey Spey-Royal Shield, emblematic of the rifle team championship of the Interior, held on the Glenmore rifle range on Sunday, Sept. 15th, under favorable weather conditions. The handsome trophy was captured by a composite Penticton-Summerland team with a grand total of 468 points, closely followed by Kamloops, 465; Vernon, 465; Kelowna, 460; P. Armstrong, Vernon, won the Haug Cup for individual aggregate with the fine score of 33, 34, 33—100. This was the first time a century had been scored in the competition.

Dr. B. Netherton, Penticton, Heads Association—City Dentist on Executive

Dr. Bill Netherton, of Penticton, was elected president of the B.C. Interior Dental Association at the conclusion of the annual convention held in Kelowna last week-end. Hon. President will be Dr. Robert Mathison, of Kelowna, while vice-president will be Dr. Lloyd English, Kamloops. Dr. Jack Day, of Penticton, was named secretary-treasurer.

It was decided to hold meetings in May and October, and to alternate the conventions between Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon.

The 1947 executive consists of Dr. Cameron, Kamloops, Dr. Smith, Vernon; Dr. Newby, Kelowna, and Dr. Johnson, Oliver.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By The "Beaver"

A YOUNG AND ENERGETIC POLICE constable stood at the corner of a busy intersection while patrolling his "beat." School children were starting to pour out of class rooms at the noon recess. Motorists were hurrying home from their offices for their lunch, and the children, half across the intersection in a disorderly fashion. Suddenly a child appeared from nowhere. There was a screech of brakes, but it was too late. The lifeless body of a eight year old girl was dragged from beneath the wheels of a motor car.

THAT WAS FOURTEEN YEARS ago. But at that moment, Constable Bill Eager, of the Calgary city police force, started to think how youngsters could be protected from the deadly stream of cars when going to and from school. From it grew the first School Traffic Patrol system, and within a matter of a couple of years, the idea swept far and wide across Canada. In fact the plan was so effective in cutting down the toll of accidents, that Constable Eager was relieved of many of his duties in order to devote more time in lecturing children on traffic safety during school hours. Newspapers from coast to coast publicized the new system, and the police constable was bombarded with questions from organizations in other cities.

BILL EAGER WAS POPULAR among school children in those days, and his clean sportsmanship during his high school days was probably responsible for him being a "fellow" among youngsters down to the required 15 mile an hour speed limit at a school zone. Only to step on the gas again. Statistics will show that few accidents occur within school zones, but at other intersections—mostly due to the jay-walking and carelessness on the part of car owners. At the Council meeting on Monday night, it was indicated that something will be done about careless driving. In addition to the police "cracking down" on responsible citizens will be given the task of noting traffic violations, and they will take the licence numbers of cars. The motorist will be notified in due course, through the C.R.A.F. squad, and the infraction will be pointed out. We personally think these cards will feel more embarrassed than if he had appeared before the local magistrate and shelled out ten or fifteen dollars. It's a little worth while experiment, and may prove a solution to cutting down a lot of careless driving in the city.

After war broke out in September, 1939, Bill was one of the first constables on the police force to don the King's uniform. He joined up with the R.C.A.F. and within a few days left for Toronto and was eventually posted to Canada's first R.C.A.F. squadron that went overseas—the 10th (City of Toronto) Army Co-Operation Squadron. While on embarkation leave, he and a few of the other "boys" celebrated their last night prior to going to war. The celebration, one pranksman pulled the chair from beneath him just as he was about to sit down. Bill tumbled on the floor, but the back of his head hit the seat of the chair. It knocked him out for a few minutes, but after coming to, he thought nothing more about it.

A FEW DAYS LATER, HOWEVER, while on the boat enroute overseas, he complained of a severe headache. Several months went by, and even aspirin failed to give him any relief. Finally the headaches grew worse, and some of his chums noticed on the odd occasion that Bill acted peculiarly. He started to forget things and his work suffered. One day he passed out on the parade ground, and he was rushed to hospital. X-Rays showed he had a clot of blood on his brain, and even though the operation was successful, the delicate brain tissues had been permanently injured. The last I heard was that Bill was sent back to Canada and that he failed to recognize any of his friends.

FUNNY HOW THINGS stick in one's mind, but practically every day I see that the school patrol at the corner of Bernard and Richter, I can see that heavy-set police constable observing the children crossing the street. Little did I know when I was in the patrol system that his memory would be perpetuated all across Canada.

CITY FATHERS WADE THROUGH HEAVY AGENDA

Despite the fact it was the first meeting in three weeks, City Council managed to get through the heavy business agenda in "reasonable" time on Monday night.

Under the guiding hands of Acting-Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, aldermen managed to wade through the business shortly after 11 p.m.

TURKEY FARMER ENTERS CLAIM AGAINST CITY

The City of Kelowna is being sued for damages as a result of water from the city reservoir running over the property of Hugh Turner on October 23, 1945, the City Council was informed last Monday night.

which was much earlier than many expected.

The matter has been turned over to the city solicitor for necessary action.

D. C. Fillmore, who is acting on behalf of Mr. Turner, a turkey farmer, filed a statement of claim calling for loss of five turkeys valued at $25, plus general damages. The pipe line leading to the city reservoir broke last October, flooding considerable property below the mountain.

More than 150 years elapsed between the discovery of South Africa and establishment of the first European settlement there.

TO SERVE YOU

When you visit your bank these days you are likely to see faces you have long missed—members of our permanent staff back from active service. Almost five thousand are "back on the job" while others are recovering from wounds and others are still with the forces.

These gallant men who left the banks to enlist and have come back have shown themselves to be alert, self-reliant, eager to get on with the business of living.

Some of them have been away for five years or more. Many have won distinction. All have acquitted themselves with honour. All are welcome back.

In your bank these men find appreciation, security and opportunity for advancement. Our plans for them express our sincere desire that, in banking service, they may find ample scope to make their further contribution to this nation's security.

Winfield W.I. To Aid Many Charitable Bodies

WINFIELD—A large attendance marked the first meeting of the fall season on Wednesday, October 2, at 8 p.m., when several appeals for aid to charitable organizations were heard. As a result, contributions are to be sent to the Solarium, at Victoria, the National Institute for the Blind, and to the Unitarian Service Fund toward the adoption of an orphan for three consecutive months.

Several new members as well as of last week when two cars driven by J. W. Arnold, of Winfield, and Dr. Harvey, of Vernon, collided at a committee was chosen to arrange a right of way intersection. The work, which is to be followed by a bazaar later in November. Still further plans were made for a Halloween party on Wednesday, October 30th.

Mrs. A. Phillips quoted from some circulars, giving a resume of Institute activities throughout various Canadian provinces, and depicting the vital role this organization was playing in promoting more satisfactory post-war readjustments. A short contest, followed by a tea, concluded the meeting. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. T. Howes, Mrs. I. Johnson and Miss A. Heit.

Construction of the new classrooms in Winfield is well underway, and completion will greatly ease the congested conditions which exist in the school at present. The steady flow of people into the district has almost doubled the enrollment within the past few years.

Apple picking appears to be the sole interest in the district at present. With the picking of a bumper McIntosh crop almost completed, growers are now busy with later varieties, but the majority of them are still coping with the box shortage difficulty.

A traffic accident occurred Friday

Mr. and Mrs. A. Phillips have returned after spending the summer in Vernon.

Mrs. I. Johnson and family returned from a month's vacation in Toronto and New York.

Mrs. E. F. Goss returned from a two weeks' holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Masters, Mr. and Mrs. J. Boswell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Boswell, of Vancouver, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Cornish.

Frank Holtzki is recovering satisfactorily after falling from a ladder last week.

The United Church is planning to hold a harvest home festival service October 13, at 2:30 p.m. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Misses N. Lemon, M. Allan, A. Heit and Mr. G. Elliot attended the rural teachers' meeting in Kelowna last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McLeod were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Johnson.

Peachland W.A. Decorates Church For Thanksgiving Service Sunday

Edgewater Hotel Changes Hands Again—To Improve Beach Property

The W. A. of St. Margaret's Anglican Church held their first meeting of the fall season in the Church Saturday afternoon of last week. After decorating the church for the Thanksgiving Service on Sunday, a business meeting was held. It was decided to make a quilt for a single bed later in the year, and send it to the Dorcas Secretary, to be used as needed. The date of the annual bazaar was set for December 5. The meeting of the Diocesan Executive Board will be held in Peachland on November 5, and a church service and Holy Communion will be held at 10 a.m. During the day Mrs. D. Solly will speak on her trip east to the Dominion board meeting. The members are reminded they are asked to give a cent-a-day on their birthday. This fund is to be sent in to the Diocesan Board. Mrs. R. N. Martin invited the members to her home for tea.

The Edgewater Hotel has again changed hands. The new proprietor, A. V. Mash, formerly of Peace River, hopes in the future to put a boat house and a pavilion on the beach. He will serve meals, and continue to improve the hotel. Guests registered at the hotel during the week were: Mrs. Verne Raymond, Vancouver; M. Radner, Osoyoos; B. E. Baldwin and F. R. Riley, Powell River; E. A. Lacie, Victoria; W. J. Armstrong and R. S. Scafe, Penticton; P. C. Ogilvie.

The municipality is having considerable trouble with the congestion of traffic and double parking on the main street. This is a dangerous practice, and if it continues, prosecutions will follow.

The packing house is still the busiest place in town. A. Pentland, manager of the packing house, reported that he had handled the largest tonnage of soft fruit in ten years. The Mac crop will run to 40,000 loose. There is a large movement in Macs, with shipments going to Eastern Canada, and the Old Country.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hunt returned home Tuesday of last week after spending ten days visiting in East Kelowna.

Miss Madeleine Ekins returned from the Coast Sunday last.

Mrs. J. S. Cockburn left for the Coast Wednesday of last week, accompanied by her daughter.

Mrs. R. J. Rea left for Vancouver Wednesday of last week, en route to her home in San Francisco.

The monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Z. C. Witt Wednesday evening of last week.

Lucille Ball's first visit to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot since her four-month sojourn in New York was to greet Gene Kelly on the set of "Life for the Living". In addition to greeting friends, the star also set a style note with her severely tailored black street dress and picture hat of matching black with brimful of pale-blue cabbage roses.

Frances Gifford left college to become a screen actress but she isn't letting her motion picture career interfere with her education. Frances this week enrolled in a correspondence course conducted by the University of Chicago. She will study biology, she revealed on the set of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Arncliffe Affair".

Only thing changed for Jeanette MacDonald recently when she returned to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for the first time in four years was the color of her dressing room. It had been redecorated.

During the singer's screen absence only two stars had been given the use of the room, Irene Dunne and Claudette Colbert.

CITY LIBRARY CIRCULATION OFF SLIGHTLY

First Time in Several Months
Library Circulation and Registration Shows Decline

For the first time in several months, circulation of the Okanagan Union Library showed a decline, according to figures released last week. A total of 3,533 books were circulated during the month of September, compared with 3,902 during the corresponding month last year. Fiction books were more widely read, a total of 1,912 being taken out, while non-fiction totalled 977 and children's books, 644.

Adult registrations last month totalled 45, while 13 additional children joined the library. This was a drop of 25 when compared with September, 1945.

The following new books were added to library shelves during the past month.

SEES WORLD SHOW-DOWN IN GERMANY

Outcome will Determine Trend of Europe Declares Coast Newspaperman

Kenneth Drury, editor of the Vancouver News-Herald, in one of the more opportune talks heard here this year, told members of the Canadian Club that the coming showdown between communism and democracy as known among the western powers "will take place in Germany, and the way Germany goes will largely determine the trend of the rest of Europe."

Speaking at the Anglican Church Parish Hall last Thursday night, he said there is no near-hysteria in England or France over war impending with Russia—the friction between Russia and England over the Dardanelles is "an age-old issue" and not likely to cause war.

The degree of success attained by setting up buffer states in the west to stem the "swelling tide of Communism" appears uncertain, he thought, and betterment of economic conditions in our own countries would show the world that "free enterprise can work."

In a speech entitled "European Pilgrimage", the veteran newspaperman took his attentive hearers through the war-ravaged countries of Northern Europe, except that part dominated by Russia. He had spent two months overseas this summer, with 17 other Canadian newsmen, as guest of the Empire Press Union.

Slow Recovery

Speaking with the experience and observation of a press executive, he dwelt first with that country where delegates spent most of their time—England. There he found that the country was slowly recovering, prices of everything were high, the diet was "grim". He developed a higher regard for Britain's public men. Their tolerance and public spirited attitude was one of the secrets of Britain's greatness, he said. One of his most "heartening discoveries" was that English children's intelligence quotient was on the rise, due, he thought, to steps taken to increase nutrition and get rid of slum areas.

Cigarettes Preferred Currency In Belgium the stores had ample goods from all over the world, due to the speaker said, to an accumulation of foreign exchange during the war. Belgians are in a favorable position of buying anywhere in the world, but prices in Belgium are high, even there some measure of control is exercised.

Ruin and devastation is everywhere in Holland and Germany. Cigarettes are the preferred currency in the conquered country, he said, with a trading value equivalent to from 70c to $1 each. He predicted a hard winter for the German people suffering from severe shortages of food and fuel.

The whole French situation is unstable, French people have no confidence in their own money, Mr. Drury disclosed. Prices there are sky-high, notably meals. He cited his own experience where he and two others were charged 4,000 francs (about $40) for a meal that was good "but nothing extraordinary." In thanking the speaker on behalf of the club, T. F. McWilliams said that anything that throws light on conditions overseas was received with interest by everyone in Canada.

Another Step Forward

The facilities of this Corporation's branch office in Edmonton have now been expanded to render general trust and agency services. From 1902, when the Toronto General Trusts first opened an office in Winnipeg to transact business as trustee, executor and agent in Manitoba and the old Northwest Territories up to the present time when it has offices in six western cities, this Corporation has never looked back. In 1902, total assets under administration amounted to $20 millions; today to $277 millions, a substantial part of which are western assets. Linked with this development have been some of the outstanding business men, solicitors and leaders in public life in western Canada. Choosing this Corporation as your executor and trustee throws around your estate the protection of a well-established, experienced organization devoted to the administration of western estates for more than forty years.

RIDING an ill-equipped bicycle is courting disaster. During 1945 there were 245 accidents involving bicycles in B.C., and by far the greatest number of bicycle accidents were the result of collisions with an automobile.

This year traffic on the roads is much heavier, and greater precautions must be taken by both motorists and cyclists.

Here are some safety rules for cyclists which should be given special attention: Always ride single file on busy or narrow streets. Never ride more than two abreast. Don't "hitch on" to trucks or cars and never "stunt" or race in traffic. Don't carry another person on your bicycle—it obstructs your vision and makes steering and balance difficult. Be sure your bicycle is equipped with lights and bell, and that the brakes are in good working condition. Adhere to traffic regulations. Know and obey those sections of the Highway Act of British Columbia which deal with bicycles... and cycle in safety.

GOODYEAR 3 to 1 OVER ANY OTHER TIRE

THERE MUST BE A REASON FOR GOODYEAR'S OVERWHELMING POPULARITY!

AND HERE IT IS...

The popularity of Goodyear tires is like a tidal wave... a sweeping flood that began as a mere trickle thirty years ago. At that time motorists began to discover Goodyear's dependability. Today, they have faith in it! Throughout the long period of tire evolution, the name Goodyear has stood for progression... improvement... and ultimate perfection.

The modern Goodyear tire embodies all the time-tested features that have been responsible for Goodyear's success. Every factor contributing towards increased mileage, has been utilized. Safety has been built into every fibre. And cost-per-mile has been reduced to the point where Goodyear tires are now the most economical on the market. You can save money by driving on Goodyears. Drive in today and let us prove it!

When Buying New Tires REMEMBER

"More people ride on Goodyear tires than on any other kind."

WESTBANK W.A.
HOLDS MEETING

WESTBANK — St. George's W. A. commenced their monthly meetings on October 3 at the home of Mrs. E. Stubbs. It was attended by members and visitors, among whom were Canon V. Harrison and Mrs. Harrison. There was a discussion on the possibility of having cement steps at the church door and a path to the gate. It was decided that a tender should be called for same.

A presentation of a black purse and a white woollen scarf was made to Mrs. A. E. Drought for her untiring service at the organ for a number of years. The gifts were presented by Mrs. V. Harrison.

The meeting was adjourned and an excellent tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Stubbs. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Hoskins.

A Sadie Hawkins Day dance was held at the Westbank High School on Friday, October 4. A large number attended, and $3.25 was realized, which was put towards the Teen Town which the High School students hope to start in Westbank.

A meeting had been called on Thursday for the teen age to meet the mayor of Kelowna Teen Town but owing to a misunderstanding in the ferry times, he was unable to attend. The large number which had turned out were disappointed, but it is hoped that an equally interested group of teen-agers will be present at the meeting which will be held next Thursday.

Mrs. R. E. Houck, of Hamiota, Man., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. T. B. Reece.

Miss Betty Davidson, a student nurse at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, arrived home last week-end for a month's vacation.

Miss Ethel Atkinson is on a visit to Roblin, Man., where she will attend the wedding of her uncle.

Matt Hicks spent last week-end at his home in Westbank.

A. P. Smyth has resigned from his position at the Westbank Co-Op and G. A. Lennox, of Victoria, is now the chief engineer of the plant.

The fall session of the Pro-Rec started last Monday, the younger members commencing their class at 6.30 p.m. as in previous years.

PENTICTON
DOG CONTEST
HUGE SUCCESSFirst Interior Show Compares Favorably with Exhibitions
Ever Held in West

MANY ENTRIES

More Outstanding Animals Entered
Than in Any Other
B.C. Contest

Penticton's first dog show, held under the auspices of the B.C. Interior Kennel Club, was an outstanding event on Saturday last. The show, according to many closely connected with such exhibitions, compared favorably with any held in the west.

Crammed with interest, not only for dog handlers and lovers of man's best friend, but for the general public, the show revealed what it takes to produce a championship dog, and the amount of work that goes into preparing a show animal for competition.

Vic Williams, Vancouver, who judged the entries, was high in his praise of this initial effort and for the way the show was handled.

Noteworthy for the number of entries, it was pointed out that rarely has a western Canadian showing had as large and varied an entry for its initial presentation; only two of the showings in the west had more dogs than the 113 displayed in Penticton.

From its opening promptly at ten o'clock on Saturday morning by Councillor J. W. Johnson, acting for the citizens of Penticton, to its equally prompt closing at 8.40 that evening, the show progressed rapidly, with "time out" for meal hours only.

The experts attending this showing agreed that more outstanding dogs were entered in the Penticton show than in any other in B.C. this year. A contributing factor in this was the number of entries from across the line, quite a number of animals from Seattle, Spokane, Tacoma and other points featuring in the winners' list.

The judging by Vic W. Williams, B.C. director of the Canadian Kennel Club, was particularly good, and extremely impartial. Officials, handlers, dog owners and the general public alike agreed that his smooth, speedy work was a decided contribution to the success of the event.

After the final judging on Saturday evening a supper was held in the Incola hotel, this being sponsored by the officials of the Interior club for the benefit of outside visitors and exhibitors.

An innovation, believed to have been staged for the first time in history at the Penticton show, was the parade of the best-of-breeds, of all dogs, held at seven o'clock on Saturday evening, immediately prior to the commencement of judging.

This was especially appreciated by the audience, who were thus afforded a chance to see and "compare" dogs of many types.

Almost without exception people were fascinated by the huge Great Danes, delighted with the smaller dogs, and charmed by the "toys." It is notable that a good number of the male element concentrated their attention on the splendid display of hunting dogs shown.

The announcing over the public address system by Wilf Carter, together with his comments on the origin of breeds, proved an excellent introduction to dog-dom by the average person, who otherwise might have missed many interesting points in connection with the animals.

Behind the scenes was the work of Mrs. Pat Randall, of Saskatoon, who was show superintendent, and of J. L. Ritchie, indefatigable secretary of the B.C. Interior Kennel Club.

A large number of people attended the function, taking keen interest in the various entries. This interest was particularly notable among the younger generation, who were able, through the showing, to see breeds of dogs not common to this community, and also to see some outstanding animals of each type and species.

Mrs. Clyde Ritchie, Okanagan Mission, won a prize with her Afghan hound, "Myia El Myia", in the sporting hounds section.

Top dog in the show, and winner of the silver tray as "best in show," was a comparative newcomer to exhibits. This animal, the Airedale terrier, "Murraygate Monty" (imp.), owned by Mrs. F. M. Hargreaves, New Westminster, has only been entered in shows once or twice before, but is already looked upon as one of the top Airedales in the Dominion.

This dog was handled by Mrs. G. O. Olsen, of Vancouver, who has been handling dogs for about 40 years. Mrs. Olsen handled three of the winners in the group specials, her work being outstanding throughout.

Johnnie Long, of Tacoma, handled two of the group winners, the Irish setter and the Boxer.

Makers of a new plastic shoe claim it is scuffless and will remain shiny after washing with soap and water.

TEEN TOWNERS
CLOSE SEASON
WITH BANQUETTrophies Awarded to Most Valuable Players at Club 13
Gathering

It was an array of champions that filled Teen Town Hall Monday night for the Club 13 banquet—the first of what may well be an annual big-time event for the youthful sports. Bringing to a climax their first season of fosterhood, the Thirties-ers, champions in their own right, honored the three younger teams, junior girls and boys and midget boys, who played football under Club colors this year. Everyone, from thy Plus Koenig, the faithful batboy, up to his brother George—that includes four other Koenigs—had a whale of a time.

Awarding of trophies to the most valuable player on each team was the moment most looked for by the junior players. Coach George Pillger chose Zenna Hantwell, moundswoman of the girls' nine, and a handsome trophy was hers in absentia.

Two other chuckers received similar honors. Vic Weller, selected by his midget coach, George Koenig, and Henry Knorr, the choice of junior coach, Carlo Porco.

1947 TEAM

Memories of the eventful season just passed were related, Chairman Joe Spelle lauded the teams individually for their excellent showings and hinted that the Club would be able to sponsor them again next year. Club executives, president Bob Koenig, vice-president Carlo Porco and secretary George Pillger, were high in their praise for the "protoges."

After enjoying the first-rate dinner made possible by the hard work of the members, their mothers and sisters and friends, they tied a ribbon on the evening's festivities with a dancing party.

All three foster teams were winners in their respective leagues this year—a credit their spokesmen said was due to the fine coaching and help they got from the Club. The clubmen were Teen Town champions of the interior, and were nosed out in the B.C. finals in Vancouver during the Labor Day week-end.

1ST RUTLAND
TROOP

"Do a Good Turn Daily"

Orders for the week ending October 19:

There will be no meeting of the Troop on Monday, October 14, as the Community Hall has been booked for a dance that night (Thanksgiving). A meeting of the Court-of-Honor will be held later in the week, exact date and place to be notified in a card to be placed on the school notice board.

Arrangements were made at this week's meeting to hold a two-day camp on Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11, at the old camp site in Mission Creek, below the Belgo. The Troop will gather at the school field on Thursday, 9.30 a.m. Scoutmaster A. K. Bond will be in charge the first day of the camp, and Scoutmaster A. W. Gray will take over the camp for the second day. A good attendance of Scouts is looked for in order to pass many outdoor tests.

At the meeting on Monday, October 7, the Troop heard an interesting and informative talk on the causes of fires, and their prevention, by Fred Gore, of Kelowna, the district fire marshal. He explained the reason for this week being chosen as "Fire Prevention Week" by stating that it was on Oct. 9 that Mrs. O'Leary's cow was alleged to have kicked over the lantern that started the disastrous fire that destroyed the city of Chicago back in the '70s. After the talk by the fire marshal, the boys had a games period, with chain tag and dodge ball providing the chance to work off steam. They then adjourned to "Patrol Corners" and studied the requirements for the Fireman's Badge. Each Patrol was then called upon in turn to demonstrate some item from the badge requirements, such as the Fireman's lift, putting out burning clothing, removing animals from a burning building, etc.

What the Public Says Goes!

We at the Ford Motor Company know our welfare depends on how well the public accepts the automobiles we make. If we can continue to make the kind of cars people want, with higher and higher values for their owners, we will have the security and opportunity that come with public approval. More cars will be sold, more jobs will be made, higher wages will be paid.

That is the FORD IDEA. It has worked for a long time. We think it just as vital and productive for the future as it has been in the past.

No product is so good it can't be made better. AND NO WAGE IS TOO HIGH THAT IS EARNED.

City Fathers Move To Improve
Standard Of Driving In KelownaTraffic Offenders Will be Notified of Carelessness Under New SystemCity Council on Monday night took definite steps to improve the standard of automobile driving on city streets. The matter came up for discussion following receipt of two letters from local residents requesting installation of stop signs at certain intersections of the city in order to protect school children.The truth is, the standard of driving here is even lower than at Victoria. Alderman Jack Horn declared after another spokesman attended the situation would not improve until city police took action against offenders.Alderman Horn later proposed that the city print several hundred post cards with the following details filled in: car licence no., at or near, in Kelowna on, last day of, at or about, o'clock, your car will probably have the un-denoted violation of traffic regulations. This advice is designed merely to point out your error in the interest of safe driving.The cards will be later distributed to responsible citizens, and when a motorist is noticed violating traffic regulations, a check will be made through the licence number, and a card mailed to the offender. In this way, it is hoped that motorists will become more traffic conscious.

Traffic Constable

During the course of the discussion, Alderman C. D. Newby thought that a traffic constable should be on duty at the intersection of Elgin and Bernard for 15 minutes during the rush hours.Acting Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games stated that next year's City Council will probably have to consider the installation of traffic lights at busy intersections. Alderman R. P. Walrod thought the move was a good one, but questioned whether it would be more of a nuisance value during the rush periods.Aldermen Walrod and Horn were later appointed on a committee to work on a safety driving campaign.
It was agreed that a caution sign be placed at the intersection of Richter and Sutherland as a means of protecting school children.CITY AWAITS
NEW INDUSTRY
ANNOUNCEMENTCity Fathers are still mystified over the possibility of a new industry being created in the city. At last Monday night's City Council meeting, the Okanagan Investments Company acknowledged the city's offer to sell two acres of land in the northern section of the city for $600 an acre.Previously it had been stated that the company had declined to reveal the type of industry pending acceptance of the city's offer to sell the property. In view of the reasonable price for the land, the investment company felt that their client would purchase the land, the letter stated.

MOVEMENT
SETS RECORDMovement of 1,050 Cars New High Since Tree Fruits Was FormedThe movement of 1,050 cars of apples from the Valley last week created a new record since the establishment of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited. The movement may have been exceeded in those days when an "opening date" for McIntosh was established by the shippers and heavy movement concentrated in that week. However, that practice has long been abandoned and last week's movement was a normal one.
Included in the movement were some cars of bulk to the prairies and to U.S. processing plants. Some boxed apples went east. While Macs predominated, there were some hallows and bulk Jons as well as Snows and sundry other varieties.
McIntosh are just about all picked in this area. This crop is running considerably over estimate but some of the packing houses are cleaned up and have turned to Jonathans which are now being picked.The movement of d'Anjou pears is good while the sundry varieties of pears are pretty well all shipped.

Grape Demand

Grapes are finding the demand greater than the supply but celery is slow and the onion movement has slackened off slightly.The headache centres around Wealthies and Hyslop crabs. There are probably about 20,000 boxes of Wealthies still to be sold and the prospects are rather dim. With no sugar available for processing, the Hyslop crabs remaining unsold appear to be just about hopeless.Actually the shipment of McIntosh is not keeping up with the demand at the moment.A heavy apple export movement is expected around the turn of the month but this depends to a great extent upon the availability of ships on the Atlantic seaboard. The strike situation has hampered shipments considerably.Several cars of apples en route to New Orleans for shipment to Brazil were caught in the maritime strike and had to be put in cold storage.
Okanagan apples are experiencing a ready sale in Ontario and Quebec, despite the fact that the local crop in those areas is now on the market.There has been some difficulty about icing cars locally and something of an ice shortage is developing here. It is becoming evident that the present facilities for icing "reefer" cars are inadequate and some changes must be made.The car movement last week, which totalled 1,050, commenced on Monday, September 30, with 161 and the daily shipments thereafter were: Tuesday, 140; Wednesday, 175; Thursday, 168; Friday, 192; Saturday, 214. These were followed on Monday and Tuesday of this week with 176 and 153.On Tuesday the season's shipments had climbed to 7,705. On the same date in 1945 the shipments had been 5,644 and in 1944, 6,149.HYTHE, Kent, England (CP) —

the imaginary title, "Autumn Raspberry King".Monday, the Courier carried a report that W. H. Ribelin, Sr., 1916 Water Street, had several bushes bearing the red fruit. It was second growth, he said, producing a heavily laden branch as proof.Now, J. B. Knowles, 574 Manhattan Drive, has brought in tangible evidence that he too can coax raspberries at this time of the year—a custard jar full of luscious-looking ones.But the latest pretender for the "crown" would go one better.
Said Mrs. Knowles: "We usually have them in November if the fall is mild." The secret, she confided, is careful pruning. She credited her husband for this unusual occurrence (for such it is, according to agricultural expert Ben Hoy). The raspberry bushes are just an ordinary strain, she assured, second growth.TO HOLD CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS
ON OCTOBER 19Selection of Local Postal Carriers Will be Made After ExaminationsAn examination of the applicants for positions with the expanded postal service here will be held on October 19. James Logie, who will be the presiding officer, will represent the Civil Service Commission.
The examination will be a written one and is the usual civil service examination. Postal employees belong to the civil service.Following the examination the papers will be examined and from them the postal letter carriers will be selected. They are then appointed on a temporary basis and a short period of training will follow. Letter carriers will not wear uniforms until they become permanent civil servants after a six-months' service.APPROVE LEASEThe C.P.R. was granted a lease on certain property adjacent to their present land, for the sum of $250 a year. Council on Monday night gave the bylaw the first three readings.CEMENTWe are informed by our suppliers—B.C. CEMENT CO., LTD.—That we must expect this commodity to remain in short supply as long as the unprecedented demand continues.In the meantime we are doing our best to fill—in rotation—the many orders that have been placed with us.Kelowna Builders Supply Ltd.

NO FAVOR AT ALL
B. OF M. OFFICE
Low-Cost Loans, Repayable on Installment Plan. Available for Every Useful Purpose

"Many of our new customers are pleasantly surprised when they first borrow money from B. of M.," says Geoffrey Douglas, local manager of the Bank of Montreal. "They realize then what it really means when we say that you don't ask a favor. You will appreciate the quick, friendly Campbell service."

If you are in a position to repay, it is easy to get a personal loan from the Bank of Montreal. The cost works out to only 27 cents a month for a $100 loan, repayable in installments over a twelve-month period. Of course, more or less than $100 may be borrowed for shorter or longer periods; the cost to you is proportionately the same.

Drop in and see Mr. Douglas or his accountant, Mr. Paulding, at the B. of M. the next time you need ready cash. You will find that they are glad to assist you—and this in strict confidence. —Advt.

BIRTHS
MORT—At the Kelowna General Hospital, on Wednesday, October 9, 1946, to Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Mort, Kelowna, a daughter.

OBITUARIES
Mrs. E. J. McFadden
Word was received here by Mrs. W. McInroy of the death of her mother, Mrs. Emma Jane McFadden, at Manville, Alta., on Oct. 2. The funeral was held October 5, from the Manville United Church, Rev. MacLeod officiating.

The deceased had been a resident here with her daughter for the past ten years. She was born in Northwood, Ontario, in 1855. Surviving are seven children, 41 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

ALBERT WILSON
Albert Wilson, 64, 457 Royal Ave., passed away in Kelowna General Hospital, Wednesday, October 2nd. Born in Stoke-on-Trent, England, he spent most of his life in Toronto, in the real estate business. He came here two and a half years ago to retire.

Funeral services were held at the family residence on Monday, October 7, with Ven. Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole conducting the service. Interment followed in Kelowna cemetery, Day's Funeral Service in charge.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Ernest and Walter, both of Toronto, and two daughters, Edna and Mary, at home.

Mrs. ANNE BAUER
Born in Hungary and a resident in Kelowna for the past 30 years, Mrs. Anne Bauer, 1369 Bertram St., passed away in hospital, Friday, October 4, in her 69th year. Surviving are her husband, Joseph, one son, John, and one daughter, Mrs. Wheeler, Victoria. Six grandchildren also survive.

Requiem Mass for the deceased was held at Immaculate Conception Church, Sutherland Ave., Monday morning, Rev. Fr. W. B. McKenzie celebrant. Burial followed in the Kelowna cemetery, Day's Funeral Service in charge.

GUSTAV REITER
Gustav Reiter, 54, of Enderby, died suddenly in hospital here, Sunday, October 6. The deceased had come here a few days before to assist a friend in orchard work. His remains were forwarded on Tuesday by Day's Funeral Service to Enderby for burial.

principle. We realize we are looking at a growing community and have already discussed the idea of increased freight movement and yard trackage. There isn't any doubt in our minds that the Valley is going to be a big thing in the future, and I assure you it is up to us to make it so.

That was the answer that everyone in the room was waiting for, even if it was not, opportune for the C.N.R. officials to divulge expansion plans which both Mr. Walton and Mr. Devenish assured everyone were "on paper." Just what those plans are, only the top-ranking railway heads probably know, but rumor has it that the company plans to increase the trackage and also construct a huge ice-plant in the city. Lack of materials, however, is holding up major building plans on a plan across the Dominion, and it is unlikely that any changes will take place until supplies and labor are available.

Lack of hot water in sleeping cars on mixed passenger-freight trains coming into Kelowna, was criticized by several local citizens, and both Mr. Moodie and Mr. Devenish promised the matter would be rectified as soon as running a "through" passenger train from Kelowna to Vancouver is

Brides

EDSTROM—BEST

The Seventh Day Adventist Church in Rutland was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony on Sunday evening, September 29, at 7:30 o'clock, when Grace Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Best, of Mission City, became the bride of David Lloyd Edstrom, of Rutland. Pastor Rick, of Pentecost, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of red roses and white lilies.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of red roses and white lilies.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Edward Edstrom, wore a floor length gown of pink tulle and carried red roses. Miss Ruth Smith, of Vancouver, and Miss Della Dals, of Rutland, were the bridesmaids and wore gowns of green and carried gladioli.

Edward Edstrom was his brother's groomsmen, and the ushers were Edward Best, brother of the bride, and James Edstrom, brother of the groom.

The bride's sister, Miss Betty Best, sang "Always" before the ceremony and during the signing of the register. Arthur Zeperic sang "Because".

The church was tastefully decorated with red and white flowers. A reception was held at the Victoria Hall following the ceremony.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Edstrom will reside in Rutland.

RITCHIE—REIMCHE

A lovely wedding ceremony took place at the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Rutland, at 7 o'clock, on Tuesday evening, October 1, when Clara Sylvia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reimche, of Rutland, was given in marriage by her father, to Donald Ernest Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie, also of Rutland.

The ceremony was performed against a background of heart shaped lattice work interwoven with red and white flowers.

The bride's dress was of white, featuring a satin bodice and a full skirt. She wore a long white veil and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Miss Esther Reimche, the bride's sister, was her only attendant and wore a teal green gown of satin and carried pink and white carnations.

The groom was supported by his cousin, Lawrence Ritchie. The flower girl, little Miss Trillie Reimche, niece of the bride, was in a pink and white dress and carried a basket of white and pink ribbons and matching hat.

The page boy was Joey Ritchie, brother of the groom, and they preceded the bride and groom to the altar.

During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Ritchie sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception was held in the Rutland Community Hall when three hundred guests were present. The bride's table was centred with the three-tiered wedding cake and was served by Mrs. Myrtle E. Johnson and Sylvia Johnson wearing hostess gowns of pink and green net over satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie left on a short wedding trip and will reside in the Kelowna district upon their return.

SPEAKER SAYS BIBLE GOD'S ATOMIC BOOK

Bible Society Aims to Distribute Scriptures to Every Park of the World

Unless the Bible, which is God's book, is given to the world with its transforming power, the world will be destroyed by the devastating power of the atomic bomb, declared Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, district secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, when he spoke last night at a largely attended meeting in the Kelowna branch of the Society. The meeting was held in the United Church Hall and was presided over by the local president, A. P. Pritchard.

In an illustrated address on "The Atomic Book," Mr. Tingley pictured the work of the Bible Society in translating and distributing the Bible to people in every part of the world, and stressed the need of the Scriptures in Europe and the Orient. The Bible Society, he stated, is raising a fund of one million dollars to supply the people of Europe with the Bible, believing that only as its truths are known and lived by the people, will the nations of Europe recover faith and hope, and be enabled to live together in peace.

Millions of people in the Orient, declared the speaker, are learning to read for the first time, and one of the most urgent questions facing the church in this generation is the question "What will the Orient read?" It is important because the things which people read determine their destiny, and thus the Orient will be saved from paganism and will march with the rest of the world kind forward to a new day of peace and progress only if it accepts the principles of the Bible.

Officers Elected
A. J. Pritchard, re-elected president of the Kelowna branch of the Society. Other officers re-elected were Vice-Presidents, Charles Dalton and R. E. Gray; secretary, W. G. Draper; treasurer, L. F. Walrod.

Women's meetings, for which no admission charge is made, may be advertised free of cost under this heading. Copy must be given The Courier before 5 p.m. Tuesdays.

The Sutherland Avenue Circle of the First United Church will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Black, Rose Avenue, on Friday afternoon, October 11, at 3 p.m.

The regular meeting of the Dr. Knox Chapter of the L.O.D.E., which was to be held this evening, Thursday, October 10, has been postponed until Thursday, October 17, when it will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Ralph, Elnel Street.

LAWN BOWLING SEASON ENDS

Lawn bowling for 1946 virtually came to an end last Thursday, when the finals of the local club rinks were run off. Emerging the winner by one point was the team of R. M. Johnston, Lee Henderson, G. A. McKay and Miss Nancy Sutton over R. Whillie's rink made up of himself, I. MacLaren, R. Lindsay (subbing for W. A. C. Bennett), and Mrs. T. G. Griffith.

Both fours ran neck and neck most of the way. Down two points at the last end, Johnston picked up three points to put his rink ahead by a nose.

The club had a highly successful season this year, winning three cups in outside competitions. The Stirling Cup and the Haggie Cup were brought back from Armstrong on Labor Day; the J. W. Jones Cup was won in a Dominion Day tournament at Penticton.

Executives have advised that plans are shaping up for the club's annual meeting in the near future.

FIRE WARDEN'S

CAN you imagine the carelessness that permitted 200 million dollars to be burned up during the last ten years, plus a life loss of 3,000 in the same period; these are the figures for Canada alone.

ONLY by being careful can this appalling loss be minimized; it is our duty to teach carefulness to our children, to become fire conscious ourselves, and thereby convey the idea to others.

LET us resolve to maintain the reputation we have of being a clean town; it is said that a clean home never burns. This applies to business premises also; it does not require much effort to remove all waste daily.

UNLESS we are continually alert to the danger of fire, we are apt to get careless and rely on insurance and the Fire Department for protection; but don't forget, the man next door may have no insurance, and the wind be blowing a gale.

MAKE sure you turn in the Alarm promptly in case of fire, as every second counts once it has started; and have some one out front to indicate the house, as numbers are hard to find from a fast moving truck.

NEVER leave children alone in the house; this amounts to criminal negligence, and will be so construed eventually; and no matter how safe you think you are, be sure you know of another way out.

COMPLEXION ATTENTION

Fall colors call for complexion attention. It's time to prepare yourself for new clothes and activities. For example, your sunburn is turning yellow. Although nature will have to take its course, there are a few things you can do to help it along, and make it easier for you.

1. FAITHFUL APPLICATION to a cleansing routine and use of a good night cream will smooth and soften the complexion, thus overcoming summer dryness.

2. Since the neck is one of the first places to show age, it's important that it should receive special attention long before any crepe signs appear. Use all kinds of good creams just made for this purpose.

3. You can get off the last trace of suntan from your hands, and at the same time bleach without drying, by using a cream just made for this purpose. It softens and lubricates.

ADD ZEST TO JACKETS AND SKIRTS

Some of the smartest belts you have seen are here. Notable are the simulated ocelot belts (printed in plain) that are cut wide in front and narrow at the back. Gold belts are here too for dress up occasions, and the ones that glitter are for that smart black frock you have

HAVE YOU SEEN?

Have you seen the new blouses with the push-up sleeves... they are as smart as the blouses you have seen. Gleaming British pennies highlighting a dress of soft wool. The new Lantern sleeves on a placidly tailored frock.

SHIRT OUTLOOK UNFAVORABLE

According to word from Ottawa, Canada's supply prospects in cotton (which means shirts, shorts, and pajamas) are less favorable now than they were in the first half of 1940. They will get worse before they get better, according to indications, but there is every likelihood of an improvement which will take effect early in 1941.

DALLAS HITS THE FASHION WORLD

According to a leading fashion expert, Dallas, Texas, is a town that's leading New York a merry chase in the matter of fashion. You hear it comes from Dallas, you know it's leading in style across the country. The wonderful jersey blouses in a variety of fall colors hail from there and the knitted evening tops with sequin trim are also a Dallas product. Keep your eyes open for some of these.

THE TREND TO ELEGANCE

Evening and dinner clothes are really coming back, and this trend to elegance is noticeable in all the high fashion centres. The unusual stitching details, the gorgeous buttons, the dainty cut jackets and enormous pockets, the touches of fur... all give a foretaste of clothes to come when designers have no government regulations to hamper them.

GLOVES

The leather pigskin with nail head or embroidery trim are some of the really new and different. They will dress up any costume.

SPANISH ONIONS

These have been off the market for years, but they are here again in full force and if you like them... you can have all those delectable sandwiches you want.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

Did you get your cranberries? They have had quite a plentiful supply of them this week... and sweet potatoes are in too. They taste wonderful with turkey. Those other vegetables, parsnips, and the acorn squash look grand. California grapes are here also... they are tasty at any time.

It is nice to see shelled walnuts and almonds displayed in store windows once again, and the price per pound is a little more in line now with the average budget.

SHORTAGES

According to a local grocer, shortages are coming up somewhere, but soap is a real headache. He says that now they cannot even get the substitutes as in the past. We guess we shall have to revert to the good old days and make our own.

BRIDGE TIME IS HERE AGAIN

There is a fine selection of bridge table covers in town. Better check your cards too. They have a way of looking very dog eared when you bring them out again.

DISH TOWELS

Linen dish towels, made for immediate use or by the yard, can be obtained in a local departmental store this week.

BRUNCH COATS

If you never had one you don't know what you are missing. They are fine as a house dress, but they are also a slip over your better clothes when in a hurry. They are made of that easy to launder seersucker.

SOMETHING NEW

Saw a smart container for knitting needles the other day while visiting in the hospital. It was made of felt and stitched with pockets to hold every conceivable kind of needle, from the smallest to the largest and even a spot for the knitting needle gauge. It was complete with hooks to hang on your wall and can be rolled up and tucked away in a small space as well.

Until next week then... and don't eat too much turkey on Monday.

RUTLAND

RUTLAND—The Rutland Public School football team, playing at Vernon last Saturday, defeated all opponents to win a round robin trophy, emblematic of the North Okanagan Championships. In the five games played, no goals were scored against the Rutland team.

Following were the scores: Lumb, 2-0; Vernon 2-0; Armstrong 3-0; Vernon Preparatory School 3-0; Oyma, 1-0. The cup was presented to George Reiger, captain. He and Eddy Singer were the outstanding players, scoring most of the goals. Claude Bissell is coach of the Rutland team.

The Experts Say

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—(CP)—Whisk the family out of the kitchen today and dig into that mountain of fresh vegetables waiting to be turned into relishes and chutneys for your winter dinner-table.

And what if your supply of sugar coupons has become low? Honey does wonders for sweetening pickles, either when used with 50 per cent sugar, or alone. The stronger flavors of the dark honeys add extra spiciness to relishes.

Just in case you're new at this pickling game, or haven't done any in a long time, here are a few general directions which, if followed, will guarantee good results:

1. Use fresh vegetables for pickling.

2. Use the best vinegar. Cider vinegar has the best flavor, but white (spirit) vinegar gives better color. Blended vinegar combines the flavor and color of the vinegars.

3. Soak in brine to draw out water and make pickles firmer. Cup of salt to two quarts of boiling water.

4. For crisp pickles, seal slightly but never cook.

5. Keep pickles airtight in sterilized jars. If pickles are kept in crocks, they should be well covered with vinegar solution to prevent moulding. A plate or wooden board (cut to shape of crock) should be placed on top of pickles and weighed down with a clean stone or weight.

If tomatoes are your strong point this season, here's a two-in-one recipe for both chili sauce and cocktail.

The ingredients: 15 large tomatoes (sliced), one small onion, small celery, four tablespoons sugar, three sweet red peppers, three sweet green peppers, two tablespoons salt, half a cup of vinegar.

Boil all together 20 minutes, then turn into a colander. Strain without stirring. Return juice to kettle and boil five minutes. To the solid pulp add one cup vinegar and a small piece ginger, eight cloves and one stick cinnamon (spices in muslin bag). Boil until thick. Pour into hot jars. Seal.

Yield: about three pints chili sauce and three pints juice.

Home gardeners have produced such tremendous quantities of vegetables this year they'll find it impossible to can them all and the family cold storage locker will become more popular than ever.

Root vegetables, squash, pumpkins, onions, cabbage and celery, require special care in storing and the temperature and humidity must be just right. All vegetables selected for storage should be fully mature and of good quality; they should be dry and clean since moisture induces decay.

EGYPTIAN INNOVATION

The Egyptians were the first to invent on pre-historic shoes when they contributed the sandal more than 4,000 years ago.

Renew Efforts To Have Westbank
Land Developed For War Veterans

Board of Trade Presses for Action—Property Now Being Examined

The Kelowna Board of Trade will renew its efforts to have the Stevens property at Westbank developed as a settlement for returned men, it was decided at an executive meeting on Tuesday night.

R. Brown, chairman of the rehabilitation committee, reported that there seemed to be some hope of a settlement existing as the men were not interested in property that showed little signs of development, while the government was reluctant to get behind the project until there was more interest by the men.

Mr. Brown stated that he considered the government's attitude wrong as men could not be expected to indicate definitely they would settle on the property until there was some indication at least that the project would be fit to settle on.

He said that the United States government had not demanded that host of men say they would settle in the Columbia basin area before any move was made to develop Grand Coulee. The reverse was true; as soon as the project was ready for settlement there were plenty of settlers available. The same conditions, he said, applied to the Westbank property.

Examine Site

There are something over twelve hundred acres that can be developed into excellent farming country if water is available. A year ago the project was examined by Ottawa and it was then stated that satisfactory water supply could be obtained from Bear Creek. Since that time nothing has been done.

W. T. L. Roadhouse, president of the Board of Trade, Tuesday night stated that he understood that government engineers were now on the westside of the lake examining the whole situation. As he understood it, it is intended to drain Bear Creek floodwaters into Rose Valley, which would become a reservoir.
However, there is some doubt as to whether the bottom of the Valley will hold water and this is being investigated at the moment.

After a lengthy discussion the Board decided to postpone further action until the results of this investigation can be obtained.

ial blessings was first set aside by the Pilgrim Fathers, who expressed their gratitude to God for their first New England harvest in 1621. In 1864 President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day and this date is still adhered to in many parts of the United States, although in recent years two festive dates have made their appearance. These have become known as the "Democratic" and the "Republican" Thanksgiving Days.

A regular thanksgiving holiday was first observed in Canada in 1879 when the Marquis of Lorne, then Governor-General of the young Dominion, fixed November 6 as a day "to attend church and give thanks." Days of thanksgiving have been held earlier to celebrate specific occasions, usually British victories in battle.

The early French settlers held similar celebrations and on the capture of Quebec in 1759, the British held a service in the Ursuline Chapel
"to give thanks to Almighty God for victory." A similar service was held the following year to celebrate the fall of Montreal.

Many Reunions

But Monday's holiday will be of a different nature. The Thanksgiving turkey has become one of the

SEWER DISPOSAL CHANGES READY

holiday's most significant features—especially in the minds of the young —and families take advantage of the long week-end to hold reunions around the festive dinner table.

From 1918 to 1930, the holiday was celebrated in conjunction with Armistice Day on November 11, and took on a greater religious significance. But in 1931, in response to representations by First Great War veterans and other organizations, the latter date was set aside as Remembrance Day and Thanksgiving reverted to a Monday in October.

Alderman Jack Horn told members of the City Council on Monday night that the addition to the city's sewer disposal plant will shortly be in operation.

The city is facing a heavy expenditure on the extension of the sewer service, and estimates on the project are expected to be in shortly.
